Message from the President

Dear Students:

Welcome back to old students and a most hearty greeting to the freshmen.

People are always getting advice and suggestions from all sides, but here's a suggestion which is sure to pay off in worthwhile experiences. Take advantage of the many and varied activities which Hillel offers you.

Since Hillel is basically a religious organization, its prime function is in that vein. Every Friday night services are conducted by the students themselves at Hillel House, and in keeping with the spirit of the Sabbath, these services are usually followed by some sort of an Oneg Shabbat.

For those interested in special fields, Hillel has various activities such as the religious, cultural, social, publicity, telephone, interfaith, newspaper, house, athletic, dance, and choral committees, discussion groups, and Hebrew lessons.

Hillel also serves in a purely recreational function. The house is always open except on the day of the Sabbath. There are study rooms for those who wish to pursue their books, but for those who just want to relax, the television set, the phonograph and records, the ping-pong and pool tables, and the tables and chairs await you.

Why not investigate Hillel's opportunities for yourself? One of them might be just for you!

Sincerely,

Dotty Aberman

What's in It for You?

Someone once said that "Only by participation can a person enjoy something." There is also the saying, "You get out of it only as much as you put into it." How true this is of any activity -- especially Hillel.

Looking into the future there are numerous honors you may win by actively participating in Hillel. Among them are the following:

- * National Hillel honor key awarded to graduating seniors who have shown outstanding service and leadership in the organization.
- * Scholarship of transportation and tuition of the nine-day National Hillel Leadership Institute held in Camp B'nai B'rith, Starlight, Pennsylvania.
- * Scholarship to three-day regional conclaves at such
