Principal's Message

With the advent of modern-day Israel, we have learned anew about the sources of our Jewish identity and character. We have learned that the glorious teachings of our holy Torah, the traditions of our people, and their ties to The Al-mighty are the forces which provide the moral fiber of our collective being. In the Cincinnati Hebrew Day School, we share with our brethren in Israel the love of Torah and the love of the Children of Israel on this their 30th Anniversary. We celebrate with them on our 31st Anniversary. Here general studies and knowledge of Torah are taught so that each of our students may grow up to be a better person, a better American, and a better Jew. Our record of achievement is superior even when compared to the best schools in this country.

From their inceptions, the State of Israel and the Jewish Day School Movement have striven towards similar lofty goals. It, therefore, gives me great pleasure to salute the State of Israel and the Cincinnati Hebrew Day School for their achievements of the past and to pray for their continued strength in the future.

It is most fitting that our school and the State of Israel Bonds join in honoring Mr. Alfred Katz, who has stood at the forefront of Jewish causes in Cincinnati and in Israel. Mr. Katz carries on the traditions of his family and of the priestly tribe of whom it is said that the Kohanim are first and foremost in service to world Jewry.

May The Al-mighty continue to bless and strengthen Mr. Katz and his family throughout the years to come.

Sincerely yours,

Rabbi Milton Deutsch
Educational Director
