

REMEMBERING RABBI INDICH

Rabbi Indich's favorite quotes....

"Come when you can, leave when you must."

"No Slouchy Torahs"

(i.e.) Torahs should be placed in the Aron Kodesh straight up.)

On giving advice: "Either they don't need it or it won't help."

Rabbi Indich married us. He was very caring to our whole family. My mother loved him. We miss him.

Many years ago when my father was a patient at Jewish Hospital, he had a roommate. I do not know if he was Jewish, but the roommate had surgery and complained how terrible his doctor was. He thought he was going to die and he asked for a new doctor. Rabbi Indich walked in shortly afterwards, and thinking Rabbi Indich was his new doctor, he asked him to come over. He then pulled up his gown so Rabbi Indich could look at the scar on his stomach. The man asked him what he thought. After a few kind words and a smile I heard Rabbi Indich say, "Looks good to me", and the man answered "I feel better already."

Whether you were a member or not, Jewish or not Jewish Rabbi Indich was everyone's rabbi.
