

REMEMBERING RABBI INDICH

My husband Phil would attend evening services at the shul. When it was time to leave, Rabbi Indich asked for a ride home. Phil had driven to shul with a small compact car, so he told the Rabbi he thought the car was too small for the rabbi because he was very tall. The rabbi said don't worry he'll take his leg off to fit in the car. That was Rabbi Indich's sense of humor— Phil took him home with his leg on.

Bernice Goldman

I received the memorial tribute invitation and wanted to thank the committee for sending it to me. Sorry I will not be able to attend from Florida at this time.

The rabbi (alov hashalom) was the most wonderful and caring rabbi/person I ever knew. When I retired from Yavneh Day School after 25 years he came to my retirement party and asked me to work in the shul office once day a week as his best secretary, Florence Wick, who had the capability of taking care of the office for the shul, wanted to work only 4 days a week. I did the best I could and it was a pleasure working with Rabbi Indich. My best to Risa!

Sincerely,

Shirley Scheff

