Those not alarmed at the situation point out that people gravitate to 1 cliché or another no matter where they are, or at ~~what~~ stage of life.

But if our religion is supposed to arouse in us a social consciousness, an awareness of what is going on, perhaps this banding together is defeating that purpose. We cannot solve this problem, ~~ifxxxxxxx~~ tonight, but all of us certainly should be aware of it.

The whole situation is one of many that affect us directly as Jews, and about which we should make up our minds and our hearts, and act accordingly.
