

SPEAKER'S COMMITTEE

As every one readily can see the success of Religious Emphasis Week rest heavily upon the competence of its leadership.

In lectures, major addresses, seminars, luncheons, and bull sessions numerous persons are likely to appear, and all must be ontacted to insure success.

The speaker's committee is responsible for contacting and engaging recommended speakers. The committee needs to remain in contact with its prospects to have them adequately informed of what is expected of them. A more detailed and definite outline of the assignments should be available to the speakers as early as possible.

Besides a team of perhaps four main speakers, a group of local clergymen and laymen will have to be asked to cooperate.

Biographical materials and pictures of the main speakers ought to be made available for publicity purposes, so be sure to check with them.

(Thus far, Dr. Garrett, O.S.U., Dr. Bellinger, Nashville, Tenn., and Dr. Elton Trueblood, Richmond, Indiana, have been secured as main speakers.)
