

Student participants had a fellowship hour of singing and games after the close of the week of religious emphasis with a Jewish worship service.