

New York: The Student Struggle for Soviet Jewry announced a "selected economic boycott of selected Russian products," following a demonstration in front of Macy's and Gimbel's dept. stores here.

Los Angeles: Decemebr 10th will be an international fast day for Soviet Jews, in conhunction with Human Rights Day. Israeli and European Jews will fast, while political, religious, and community leaders will be asked to join in a Prison Fare Meal on the steps of City Hall in L. Angeles.

CINCINNATI:

The Cincinnati Council for Soviet Jewry is most pleased to announce that it has sent its first food package off to Sylva Zalmanson in the name of the Ohio Valley Federation of Temple Youth. The money was raised at a conclave by members of the Council who put on a program about Soviet Jewry. In addition the conclavers sent off some 50 letters to Russian Jews.

The CCSJ in its last newsletter mentioned that a report on The State Dept.'s Report of Soviet Jewry would be included herewith. The CCSJ wishes to say that we have copies of the substantial part of the text and an editorial relpy written by Jewish Post of Washington D.C. For reprints, please contact the CCSJ office.

The Council has sent out a greeting card project to correspond with Channukah. It was sent to the religious school teachers through the offices of the Bureau of Jewish Education. If you want a copy contact the CCSJ.

On January 11th at the HUC Chapel at 8:P.M. a cultural program will be put on dedicated to Soviet Jewry. It will include song, dance, slides and dramatic readings. An action project will accompany the program. Programs similar to this will be put on by the CCSJ in St. Louis this week-end and in Washington D.C. Proceeds from the programs will go to make food packages for the Jewish political prisoners.

WOMEN'S PLEA FOR SOVIET JEWRY: This Dec. 6th at 12:30 noon be sure to be at Fountain Square for the beginning of the Women's Plea for Soviet Jewry rally. The rally is conjunction with a nation-wide campaign. All are welcome, males: ~~that~~ means, to march from Fountain Square to the Plum Street Temple. Action projects will take place at the rally.

If you are not a member of the CCSJ yet, and wish to become one, please fill out the following and return to the CCSJ office.
